

READING

'Read, read, read' - William Faulkner

'The greatest gift is a passion for reading' - Elizabeth Hardwick

We are continuing to encourage and enthuse the children to read and as always this will work best with your support.

We have spent a lot of money on new books for each classroom and this week we will be launching a new challenge for children to read as many of these new books as possible.

Please continue to read to/with your child and encourage them to read independently as well. The yellow reading records are still being used so please continue to write/record in them.

Watch out for fun reading challenges as we get closer to Work Book Day.

Thanks
